

Allowing members of the Consumers Banking Association and others to make unsolicited advertising telephone calls to Indiana residents just because we purchase services from them would constitute an unwanted invasion of my privacy. Indiana no-call laws should be allowed to remain in effect.